Subject: Food Labeling

Sensitivity: Personal

Dear. Mr. Lake,

I am writing to express my unconditional support for any initiative that promotes labeling of genetically altered food. Conversely, I am shocked and horrified - though I suppose this should come as little surprise to me - that this debate actually goes on. Where is the decency in all this? The regard for Americans' health? Or at least the sense that we should have the right to make the decisions that affect our health and not simply have the results of others' decisions foisted upon us? Are you truly that sure of yourself that this is all based on reputable science? Is it your decision to make? I hope you will see your way to doing the right thing. Thanks in advance.
